In the first three months since beginning her campaign Estelle Fennell, candidate for Second District Supervisor, received in excess of $31,000 in contributions, both large and small, from well over a hundred individuals and many businesses.

Commenting on this positive beginning Fennell said: " I am honored that so many share my vision of a strong healthy economy and environment, common sense land use policies and keeping our community safe by supporting public safety, fire protection and good roads. Of the money raised, she added, "It is heartwarming to see that even in these hard economic times, people are giving according to their means. Elections are expensive and I appreciate every dollar of support and am happy to report the donations have kept flowing."

This early show of financial support shows the tremendous amount of confidence in Estelle's abilities to be a strong leader and an effective representative for her community, her district and the County as a whole.

In addition to the strong financial support, Estelle is pleased by the endorsements she continues to receive from a wide-ranging selection of Second District constituents like Sue Long, Travis Low, Mike and Tracy Benbow, Joe and Karen Russ, Karyn and David Lee Thomas, John and Casey Schmidt, Dick and Phyllis Drewry and Dr. Wendy Joiner M.D. "My commitment is to represent all the people of the Second District, and this is a pledge I reaffirm," Estelle said.

Since the September announcement of her campaign, Estelle has been talking with community and business leaders and going door-to-door to meet with constituents. "Its hard work but I enjoy it," she said. Over and over again, people have expressed a deep concern over the future of our district and our county. All of this input, she says, "Only serves to make me more determined to fight for the changes we all want."
