North Star Quest Camp Presents Cookie Cottage Contest 2013

If you build it, they will yum!

From gingerbread houses to meringue mansions, bakers of all ages are invited to enter their confectionery creations. Show off your shortbread shanty to the Arts Alive! crowd, then at 8:30pm, we'll eat the town! Literally. To enter: drop off your edible art along with an entry form and a $5.00 entry fee to: 527 2nd Street From 12:00 pm to 4:00 pm on Saturday 12-7-2013. Winners will be announced at Arts Alive during the reception/ show from 6:00 pm to 9:00 pm that evening. All entries must be entirely edible. You do not need to be present to win a prize. Let us know if we can eat your creation or if you will be picking it up. Entries due by 4:00pm to compete for prizes, exhibit starts at 6:00pm

Judges will award prizes in the following categories:

Age group: 12 & under, 13- 17, and 18 years & older. Most traditional (this is your grandma's gingerbread house!) The oh so Humboldt award (for best local theme – dare to make a chewable Carson Mansion or yummy yurt anyone?)

Everyone is invited to enjoy the edible art and homemade hot coco during Arts Alive! Saturday December 7th, 2013 at 527 2nd street, Old Town Eureka.

Proceeds of the Cookie Cottage Contest benefit the North Star Quest Camp for Girls (NSQ), a dream maker Program of the Ink People Center for the Arts. Each summer NSQ provides girls entering 6th, 7th, and 8th grades a magical camp experience to find their inner North Star and develop the confidence and self respect needed to navigate the stormy waters of adolescence. . . and beyond. Cookie Cottage Contest information and entry forms – plus camp information are available at www.northstarquest.org or <https://www.facebook.com/events/441147979328174/?source=1>
