

WARNING! DANGER!

Parents: Tell your Children: Stay away from illegal and unsafe excavations in the sand banks and forest along the Eel River.

Outside of Scotia, we have recently noticed illegal and unsafe digging, shoring and covering of tunnels and similar excavations in the sand and among the forest trees along the Eel River. These excavations appear unsafe and unsanitary, associated with homeless encampment.

We have reported this activity to authorities, and we have asked that they be removed and the areas cleaned up.

We do not yet know how extensive this activity has been, or for what reason undertaken. We do not know whether there may be additional or other hidden features like this in or around river frontage in Scotia, of which we are not aware.

These excavations appear unsafe and unsanitary. We are alerting parents and all residents of Scotia to be on the look out for these features. Please report any such activity to the authorities if you discover them. If any are located in Scotia, we will promptly take appropriate action.
